Are you shocked about the drastic drop in the cut offs after 2020? Well, don't let that get into your head because the given cut offs for the year 2021 and 2022 are calculated out of 100, since rest of the 100 marks are only for qualifying purposes. Having reviewed the cut off trends, it's now time to delve into an analysis of cut off scores across all categories in the past few years.

NABARD Grade A Cut offs - Previous Years

To begin with, we have attached some tables below to highlight the NABARD Grade A Cut off for the previous years. Moreover, the data below ranges from 2022 to 2018. We trust that the information we've supplied will prove to be valuable and assist you in striving for exceptional scores.

However, before proceeding any further we would like to remind you that the preliminary examination of this exam is divided into two segments. One is a qualifying segment, while the other is a merit segment. Thus, the cut offs given below after the year 2020 are calculated out of 100 marks, and not 200 marks. Moreover, this shift in the exam pattern was made after the year 2020. So, do not confuse yourself while analysing the given cut offs.
