How about we start by defining what the normalization of marks is? It is a statistical technique that takes into account any differences in the degree of difficulty of the question papers across different shifts of the same exam. A direct score comparison may not be fair because the complexity of the questions between shifts can change. Thus, normalization resolves this problem by bringing the scores into parity, allowing for a more fair assessment of candidates. Hence, SSC published the formula that will be followed in Notice No.1-1/2018-P&P-I dated 07-02-2019.
