SSC MTS Recruitment 2024 - Exam Pattern

Another crucial aspect of the SSC MTS recruitment 2024 is the detailed explanation of the SSC MTS exam pattern, referred to as the 'Scheme of Examination' in the notification. For the post of MTS, the examination will consist of a Computer-Based Examination (CBE) only. However, for the post of Havaladar, the examination will include a CBE and a Physical Efficiency Test (PET)/Physical Standard Test (PST). Below is a snip for a better understanding of the exam pattern:

[Source: ssc.gov.in]

- The Computer-Based Examination will be conducted in two sessions: Session I and Session II, on the same day, and both sessions will be mandatory.
- Each session includes two subjects.
- Session I will have a total of 40 questions, while Session II will have 50 questions.
- The Computer-Based Examination will consist of Objective Type, Multiple Choice questions, available in English, Hindi, and 13 regional languages.
- There will be no negative marking in Session I. However, in Session II, one mark will be deducted for each wrong answer. Candidates are advised to keep this in mind while answering the questions.
