Read all the assumptions and then decide which of the given assumption follows from the given statement, disregarding commonly known facts.

Question On Analytical Reasoning

Statement: Company X has an empty position. They published an advertisement for the same and circulate it in the nearby location of the company. Many people got this advertisement interested as well as confusing as it was saying, "If you are a mechanical engineer, we want you as our supervisor." - by company X. Assumptions: I. Mechanical engineers are expected to be better performers by company X. II. Company X needs supervisors.

Difficulty : Moderate

Average Time : 66 Seconds

Analytical Reasoning Questions Options

1. Only I is implicit.
2. Only II is implicit.
3. Either I or II is implicit
4. Neither I nor II is implicit
5. None of these

Analytical Reasoning Questions Solution

The correct answer is Option 2 i.e. Only II is implicit

Assumptions:

I. Mechanical engineers are expected to be better performers by company X. Not Implicit (nothing is mentioned about performance in the statement so we can't assume it)

II. Company X needs supervisors. Implicit (As the advertisement was saying, "If you are a mechanical engineer, we want you as our supervisor." - by company X, so it is clearly implicit.)

Clearly, I is not implicit. The company is recruiting mechanical engineers. One explanation could be that, the company expects mechanical engineers to be strong performers. However, there can be another explanation; for instance, the company's management position might require mechanical engineering expertise. However, one thing is for sure. There is a need for supervisors because there was an advertisement for them. II is therefore implicit.

Hence, the correct answer is Only II is implicit.
